

James von Herrmann

Summary Mr. von Herrmann has over 30 years experience in developing and managing the implementation of risk management and safety programs for high-risk industrial facilities and assisting government regulators to develop and implement risk-based regulatory programs.

Employment 1990 - Present Cyclacorp Corporation Alexandria, VA
Senior Partner

- Co-Founder of Cyclacorp Corporation
- Contract Manager for multi-year prime contracts with Department of Transportation and Department of Energy
- Strategic Project Manager

Education 1972-1975 University of California Berkeley, CA
M.S. Nuclear Engineering

1968-1972 University of California Berkeley, CA
B.S. Engineering Physics

Major Projects Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration

Over ten years experience as Project and Task Manager for various projects related to the development of a risk-based regulatory program for the pipeline industry, the development of Integrity Management regulations for the hazardous liquid and natural gas pipeline industry, the development of strategic plans for Pipeline Safety, and the development of performance measures.

Department of Energy

Development and implementation of risk-based resource management systems for identifying and prioritizing Environmental, Safety, and Health risks within government run nuclear weapons and chemical processing facilities.

United States Nuclear Power Industry

Project Manager of probabilistic risk assessments and safety management programs of numerous commercial nuclear power plants.